

UNIVERSAL FILTER HOLDING FRAME

ADVANTAGES

- Holds a variety of bag filters and compact filters (with header frame)
- Rapid installation of the frame.

|                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
|--------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Application | Suitable for commercial and industrial applications                                                                                                                                               |
| Frame       | Stainless steel;Galvanised steel                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Comment     | Gasket: Optional endless polyurethane gasketRemarks: Filter fixing using 4 clamps (included)Mounting frame for Hi-Flo, Opakfil and other bag- and compact (hf) filtersStainless Steel |

| Type   | Dimensions WxHxD (mm) | Filter size HxWxD (mm) | Weight (kg) |
|--------|-----------------------|------------------------|-------------|
| 4ORS/2 | 305x305x74            | 287x287                | 1.1         |
| 4ORS   | 305x610x74            | 592x287                | 1.6         |
| 4NQS   | 508x610x74            | 592x490                | 2.0         |
| 4MPS   | 610x610x74            | 592x592                | 2.1         |
|        | 305x610x74            | 592x287                | 1.6         |
|        | 610x610x74            | 592x592                | 2.2         |

Clamping height 25 or 50 mm